

White Water Rafting, Trekking, Hiking, Canoeing, Cycling, Deep Sea Fishing, Horse Riding.....

White Water Rafting:

Kithulgala is famous for white water rafting. Rafting the white water section of the river and the boulders and rocks create grade 2/3 rapids which are exhilarating and scenic. The run requires physical effort and all rafters should be able to swim. [at least to float]

As the river widens we pass the scenic location used for the film - "Bridge over the river Kwai" filmed in 1956-, which is also a good place to jump in for a refreshing swim. On a clear day, you may even dive to see the remains of the actual bridge and carriages used for the film (only for experienced divers with proper equipment.)

"An interesting affair between currents & rapids"
